WELCOME FOR 1941

To those receiving our little catalog for the first time, we extend a hearty welcome and hope that you may derive from it at least a small part of the pleasure that is ours in mailing it to you. We have tried to assemble the most outstanding and popular of the dahlia varieties, at prices that will enable anyone to enjoy a wide selection.

To our old customers, we are eternally grateful for the many favors that have made our business and this little booklet possible. As always, our one aim is to please you and we hope that by doing so we can enjoy your patronage in the future as we have in the past.

If you are in the habit of buying only the currently popular, newest "fad" varieties, at fancy prices, we sincerely believe you are missing the greatest satisfaction in dahlia growing. Dahlias do not deteriorate or go out of style—and a variety that is outstanding and worthy enough to gain and hold recognition for season after season is just as beautiful now as when it was introduced at a high price. In fact, when you buy old varieties that are still popular you are sure of getting really good varieties that live up to their reputations—that will grow vigorously and bloom freely. These varieties hold their places year after year, even gaining in popularity, while thousands of new names appear at enormous prices and much ballyhoo and in a year or two are discarded and forgotten forever.

How many hundreds of varieties are introduced each year? Of this great number, how many are even remembered five years after they are put on the market—at a monstrous price, and with a lengthy description that would make even Hollywood's adjectives seem inadequate? When you buy a new variety on the strength of its record at the shows, or its Honor Roll rating, your chances are many-to-one that its performance and response to your care will be a disappointment, and that its popularity will be only transient.

Our roots are field-grown, without any stimulant or fertilizer of any kind. This makes them productive and thrifty—producing an abundance of bloom under the most ordinary conditions and without coddling or pampering of any kind. If you grow for exhibition, see how these thrifty, unfertilized roots will respond to the extra care given them, rewarding you with Blue Ribbon blooms that will gain recognition in any show.

We have found only one sure way of labelling roots; that is to use an indelible pencil, writing or printing the name on a dampened root. In this way there is no label to be lost, and many times the name on the root is still legible after the root has been planted a whole season and dug in the Fall. Almost any soft indelible pencil will do for this, but if you wish we can supply three for 25c—with orders only, please.

Dahlia roots received before you are ready to plant MUST be protected from drying air by covering them with soil, sand, peat or other mulch material.

Order early—many varieties will be sold out, later.

When ordering, we'll appreciate it very much if you'll make a list (on the back of order-sheet) of the varieties from which we may substitute in the event that some you order are sold out. We'll choose varieties from your list that are equal or higher in value than those that are unavailable.

For those of you who are amateurs in growing dahlias, we offer the following hints:

DAHLIA DON'TS:

- Don't plant too early—never until the ground is warm.
- Don't water when planting; or later, unless absolutely necessary.
- Don't plant near a building or wall.
- Don't fertilize unless your ground is extremely poor.
- Don't "air" your clumps before putting away for the winter.
- Don't allow over an inch or so of stem to remain on each clump when digging.
- Don't divide your clumps until shortly before planting time. Let them sprout first, so that you'll know where to cut,

DAHLIA DO'S:

- Do store your roots in sand, soil or peat moss, to protect against drying air.
- Do examine your roots during the winter. Cut off any rot that should develop, and dust the cut portion with sulfur.
- Do keep the soil worked around your dahlia plants.
- Do pinch or cut the top out of each plant when it is 12 to 15 inches high. This will encourage lower growing, making stakes unnecessary.
- Do keep old blooms and seed pods trimmed off.
- Do follow these simple instructions, and you'll be rewarded with beautiful blooms all during the season, and harvest fine vigorous roots that will keep well over winter.

We are human, and while we use the utmost care in handling orders it is inevitable that sometimes mistakes do occur. When they do, you will be doing us a great favor if you will write us should a variety prove untrue to name or fail to grow. We sincerely want you to be satisfied in your dealings with us, and will cooperate in any way possible to achieve that end.

Dahlias grown in even rather poor ground should not be fertilized—unless, of course, you are planning to exhibit your blooms. Even then, if the stock you buy is vigorous and not over-produced, or unless your ground is extremely poor, you should be able to produce fine blooms by disbudding, disbranching and working phosphate of some kind into the soil when buds first appear.

If you must fertilize, use cow manure (being careful that it does not touch the root or plant) or sheep manure, or a well-balanced commercial fertilizer at or before planting time worked into the soil. But remember, the more fertilizer used the more tendency your roots will have to rot over winter—and the weaker your roots will be the following season.

Even in the driest season, don't sprinkle your dahlias. If a drought is continued, soak the soil thoroughly and as deeply as possible about once every week or ten days. When dry enough, fine the top soil with a hoe or rake. When you sprinkle, thus wetting only the top layer of soil, the tiny "feeder" roots come to the top of the soil for moisture and so are damaged more than ever by heat and drought.

We keep our cellars dark and very cool, to prevent loss of vitality in the roots. Consequently the eyes remain dormant until sent out. If you receive a root without a developed sprout, don't hurry to return the root but place it in a warm, light, moist place for two or three days. During this time the sprouts will develop rapidly.

DON'T PLANT TOO EARLY! If you do, your plants will be in full bloom during the heated months and by the time you could enjoy the flowers the plants have passed their prime; we have many customers, especially in the extreme south, who do not plant until May 15th to June 1st and claim they have best results by planting late. No dahlias should be planted anywhere until the soil is warm.

We have had so many requests for copies of a poem which appeared in our 1937 booklet that we have decided to re-print it again this year. Here it is:

THE MEASURE OF A MAN

Not—"How did he die,"
 But "How did he live,"
 Not—"What did he gain"
 But "What did he give?"
 These are the units
 To measure the worth
 Of a man, as a man
 Regardless of birth.

Not—"What was his station?"
 But "Had he a heart?"
 And—"How did he play
 His God-given part?"
 Was he ever ready
 With a word of good cheer
 To bring back a smile,
 To banish a tear?

Not—"What was his church?"
 Not "What was his creed?"
 But "Had he befriended
 Those really in need?"
 Not—"What did the sketch
 In the newspaper say?"
 But—"How many were sorry
 When he passed away?"

OUR OWN INTRODUCTIONS FOR 1941—

and why they have not won prizes:

The following new varieties have been tried out under ordinary culture and care such as the veriest amateur would give them—grown in poor soil with absolutely no watering or fertilizer of any kind. Under these conditions they have bloomed freely and produced healthy, vigorous roots. They have never been exhibited anywhere—since to exhibit we would have to fertilize and practice forcing methods which we do not want to do.

Remember, exhibition culture takes its toll of the stamina and ruggedness of your dahlia root; that is why we do not exhibit, hence the reason we do not win Honor Rolls, etc. BUT, we CAN refer you to hundreds of our customers who have won prizes above all others.

We are introducing a few new varieties this year, which will not only produce beautiful blooms for you but will produce them freely, under any and all conditions. These are offered on a money-back guarantee to please you.

Here they are:

ARCTIC SNOW, a Formal Decorative pure white on VERY good stems; serrated tips of petals; very vigorous growth and free-blooming always. Plants only, $4.00 each.

CALIFORNIA GLORY, Formal Decorative same size and type as California Rose, but more beautiful shade of pink and much more free-blooming. Very robust growth and splendid stems. In our opinion, THE BEST true pink ever originated. Plants only, $5.00 each.

WATER LILY, as name indicates, is of Waterlily formation; blooms of the loveliest deep salmon pink topping excellent stems. Very compact, upright growth. Plants only, $4.00.

SNOWPRINCESS, a giant Formal Decorative of glistening white, dainty lilac tinting in the center of each bloom. This was exceptionally popular in our fields last year, and has every good blooming and rootmaking quality. A winner we highly recommend. Roots, $10; plants $5.

NOTES

GENERAL LIST

The stock of some of the varieties of dahlias listed is not large, and whenever you note a variety with an * before the name, it indicates that the price of this variety is NET and cannot be included in any special offer. ALL PLANTS ARE NET, except those included in the Plant Special Offer on page 5.

Don't overlook the opportunities offered on page 5 to get quality stock at a real bargain, by observing certain dates and conditions.

The abbreviations following the variety names denote the type of bloom, and the figures following are the average sizes of the blooms as they grow for us. Richer soil and forcing, if you practice such methods, will produce them larger.

We never exhibit, in competition or otherwise; we never practice "high-culture" at any time; we depend on the testimonials and recommendations (always unsolicited) of our many pleased customers, to spread the news, and they do it.

If you can give your catalog to an interested friend, send us (on a post-card) the friend's name and address; we will gratefully thank you and send you another copy.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF OUR DAHLIAS

These letters are entirely unsolicited and are but a few of the many hundreds we receive each year.

"I sincerely wish to thank you for the nice bulbs you sent me, and especially the extra gift."

Rev. R. L. W., Ashland, Va.

"Your roots purchased last year were fine; Rose Glory can't be beat—sure is a wonderful cutflower."

N. N. G., Eau Claire, Wisc.

"My dahlias did fine last year—they always do when I plant your roots."

Mrs. R. P. A., Alexander City, Ala.

"I like your dahlias better than any I have bought elsewhere."

Mrs. A. E. J., Powell, Wyoming.

"The dahlias I bought of you last Spring did fine, started to bloom in August and bloomed until they were frozen in October."

Mrs. M. B., Des Moines, N. Mex.

"Thanks very much for the fine roots you sent me last year—they all bloomed wonderfully, especially the pink Ruth Kunzman."

H. A. K., Neshanic Station, N. J.

"We have had great success with the dahlias bought from you; I'm enclosing a picture made this Fall of some Jane Cowl I bought of you—the stalks were over 12 feet high, and loaded with perfect blooms 8 and 9 inches across."

D. A. A. Belzoni, Miss.

"I must tell you of the wonderful success I had with your dahlias last summer; I had the most beautiful blooms I have had for years, and people came for miles to see them. Took several prizes at different shows, and received many nice compliments on them."

Mrs. H. A. K., Norborne, Mo.

"Your dahlias have been a source of great joy to me. They are most satisfactory in every way."

Mrs. L. G. J., Lillington, N. C.

"So far, I have never failed to grow a single root ordered from Kunzman's—so am writing these words of appreciation."

Mrs. H. H. Neshkoro, Wisc.

"I received my order—they are the best roots I have ever received from anyone, and for about half the price."

Mr. E. J. VanA., Charlestown, W. Va.

"I have been buying from you for several seasons, and am fully satisfied. No root from you ever failed to grow."

J. F. D., Chicago.

"FROST TONIGHT"

Apple-green west and an orange bar,
And the crystal eye of a lone, one star . . .
And, "Child, take the shears and cut what you will,
Frost tonight—so clear and dead-still."

Then, I sally forth, half sad, half proud,
And I come to the velvet, imperial crowd,
The wine-red, the gold, the crimson, the pied,
The dahlias that reign by the garden-side.

The dahlias I might not touch till tonight!
A gleam of the shears in the fading light,
And I gathered them all—the splendid throng,
And in one great sheaf I bore them along.

In my garden of Life with its all-late flowers,
I heed a Voice in the shrinking hours:
"Frost tonight—so clear and dead-still" . . .
Half sad, half proud, my arms I fill.

—Edith M. Thomas.
